"EXPENSE" OBJECTION PROVEN FRAUD

Astounding Record of Broken Promises is Laid Bare by Former Mayor in Telling Address to Aldermen

Following the presentation of the amended street railway franchise ordinance for its first and second readings after a motion to lay it upon the table had been voted down by a narrow margin, ex-Mayor Anderson appeared before the common council last night and in a scathing arraignment of the management and policy of the street railway company presented facts and figures to show up the corporate greed of the company and the wiles and fabrications of its officers whereby liberal franchises were secured by which enormous profits had been made and nothing given to the people of the city in return.

Coming from Dr. Anderson the disclosures of the company's methods in flim-flaming the council into giving it ultra-liberal franchises for nothing, created a profound sensation. That the arguments met with the hearty approval of the council was evident from the intense interest with which the aldermen listened and from the applause which followed the close of the address. After the meeting it became evident from sentiment expressed by members that the council is more determined than ever to exact from the street railway company better treatment and service for the people in return for any future privileges which may be granted the company.

Ordinance Is Read.

Alderman Hirsheimer started to read the franchise ordinance as amended in committee of the whole.

Alderman Bacheller interrupted and moved that the ordinance be laid on the table inasmuch as the railroad company had refused to accept its provisions.

Mayor Torrance read a letter from Superintendent Livermore incorporating a telegram from B. E. Edwards and W. W. Cargill instructing him to instruct the mayor to withdraw the ordinance as it was not acceptable to the company.

Dr. Anderson Talks.

Upon motion of Alderman Kellar ex-Mayor W. A. Anderson was given permission to address the council. Dr. Anderson said that he had been informed by two aldermen that the president of the street railway had said that Mayor Anderson had blocked the proposed extension to the Catholic cemetery during his term. In positively refuting this statement Dr. Anderson refrained from going into the matter in detail owing to the absence of Mr. Edwards, whom he preferred as a matter of delicacy to confront personally. He said with apparently deeper meaning that Mr. Edwards was "suffering under a misapprehension," and intimated that he would have used more vigorous language in the latter's presence. He challenged the charge, not with his own words, but by quoting a stockholder's public expressions concerning the affair, and by repeating newspaper reports published at the time. Dr. Anderson said the Cass street extension was up before the council 11 years ago. After the ordinance was laid on the table in 1895 a committee report recommended that the street railway company in the future be granted only such extensions as should be feeders for main lines already in existence.

The speaker recalled the next franchise fight, in 1900, when the council granted the Sixteenth street extension. The council was given to understand at that time by the officials of the railway company that if the council granted the Sixteenth street extension by way of Main street the Catholic cemetery extension would be built within three years. This was a gentlemen's agreement and the Sixteenth street extension was granted on the strength of it. The company also promised to build further east on Main than Sixteenth street.

Those "Promises."

Dr. Anderson said that when the question of extending the tracks was being considered in 1900 the council through its committee endeavored to treat the Railway company fairly, but as they could not fully agree there was a compromise effected, in which the company got what they wanted at once, WITH THE UNDERSTANDING THAT THE ADDITIONAL EXTENSIONS WOULD FOLLOW in good time. That such opposition as there was to the plans of the company was not factious or unreasonable the doctor declared was admitted by one of the large stockholders whom he quoted as having said at the time: "Opposition to the plans laid out by the company was based largely upon the hope that some scheme which would meet present demands and future needs might be reached." He further showed that, at that time, this same director also said, "I believe with Mayor Anderson, that there will soon be a demand for cars to Grand Dad bluff and the Catholic cemetery, and it will not be long before they will be sent there."

Proceeding, Dr. Anderson related how, when the committee finally agreed to the Sixteenth street extension, the following was published the next evening: "Besides this, the company agreed to build, WITHIN THREE YEARS, extensions east even farther on Main and extend its Market street line. The first is to extend to the boulevard, out toward the bluff on Main street, and the Catholic cemetery will be connected with the Market street line." Note that this was SIX YEARS AGO.

The ex-mayor proceeded next to state the circumstance that the

MURDER CAUSE OF INDIAN FUEDJohn Pidgeon Slew Uncle
of Man he Had Taken Before Court

Testifying that John Pidgeon, the educated and well dressed Indian who made the complaint against Frike Cloud, had killed the latter's uncle a few years ago and that family hatred thus engendered was the primary cause of the attempted assault upon Pidgeon, an Indian witness named Louis Mann created a sensation in the county court this morning and turned the tables slightly in favor of the defendant.

It looked rather bad for Cloud when the case was called. There were five separate charges in the complaint, ranging from assault to threats to kill. The evidence indicated that Cloud went back to the camp from the village in an intoxicated condition. He had learned that John Pidgeon had arrived during his absence and said as he got out of the wagon that he would go to the camp and see him; that he had not met him for three years and was a very anxious to confer with him.

His companions suspected trouble as Cloud was quarrelsome when drunk and followed him to the tepee, arriving just in time to see him thrown from the tent. Pidgeon and the two women who were in the tepee with their babies, testified that Cloud had acted in a very savage manner. He struck one of the women, the sister of Pidgeon, with his fist and threatened to kill the babies. Pidgeon said the first thing Cloud uttered was a threat to shoot him.

Cloud's hatred for Pidgeon was not explained until Louis Mann, a friend of the defendant, told of the family feud which resulted in Pidgeon killing Cloud's uncle for which the former served a term in the Green Bay reformatory. This put a new aspect to the affair and removed the element of malicious assault from Cloud's case, leaving it a clear case of being drunk and disorderly with conflicting evidence as to whether an assault really occurred. White, a burly buck who spoke English with great fluency, said he got hold of Cloud and tied him up to a tent stake before he had a chance to harm anyone.

Judge Brindley gave some wholesome advice to Cloud about refraining from drink and sentenced him to spend ten days in the county jail. Cloud's face beamed with joy and his tribemen likewise seemed tickled over the small sentence.

COUNCIL GIVE PEOPLE AN-OTHER CHANCE AT FILTER

The common council last night passed the resolution providing for a second referendum on the $75,000 filtering plant proposition by a unanimous vote. The matter will be voted upon at the coming spring election.

Alderman Schulze again brought up the question of selling central fire station, introducing a resolution providing for the board of public works advertising for bids. It was defeated by a vote of 10 to 9. Alderman Schulze says that a new floor will have to be laid in the station at once but the council took no action on the matter.

The telephone and telegraph pole ordinance was passed. It provides that all poles shall be painted with "post no signs."

The resolution providing for the inventory of all city property was adopted. Street openings which have been provided for will cost the city less than $2,000.

The total damages amount to $9,447, with a reduction of $750 as all buildings disturbed are purchased by the owners, as is probable, leaving $8,697 the total. The benefits to be taken from the expense amount to $5,342.14. Subtracting this amount, with the cost of the proposed Fifteenth street opening rejected, the net cost of the openings will be $1,751.60. With the cost of the actual work of opening the streets, the total expenditure will come to about $2,000.

The streets to be opened are Loomis, Rublee, Twenty-first, Twenty-third, Cameron avenue, Madison

Explosion of Fire

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
PARIS, March 10.—A terrible loss of life is reported near Calais. An explosion of fire damp soon after 18,000 workmen had descended. Fire soon followed. It will be a miracle if a single one escapes.

None made their way out. The flames reached the top of the shaft and rescuers cannot enter. The flames are so vicious it seems impossible for any to escape underground. Several lateral galleries apparently escaped the ravages of the flames and it is hoped that some of the miners escaped. Successive explosions are feared. The government is exerting every effort to aid.

A courier from the scene says four hundred escaped. Rescuers took out a hundred and twenty injured.

A break in the gas, stopped the escapes. The possibility of saving a hundred still in the galleries is precluded.

court, Thirteenth, Dayton and Petty. Alderman Downs presented a resolution fixing the salaries of election inspectors and ballot clerks at $5 per day. Referred to the committee on finance.

The board of public works recommended that 21 soft coal burners be purchased for use in election booths to replace the wornout stoves. The matter was referred to committee. Another petition to the council from property owners on Caledonia street requested that brick instead of macadam be laid on that street. The petition had the unlucky number of thirteen signers.

The report of the special street opening jury providing for the opening and vacating of certain streets and the assessment of benefits and damages was adopted.

One of the provisions in this report was for the vacating of the three small streets on the river front north of Vine. In consideration of the city vacating these streets the Milwaukee railroad company deeds to the city seven acres of land adjoining which constitutes the new levee park now in process of construction.

This matter came up in a different form later, when the special park committee presented a voluminous report incorporating all the correspondence between the city and railroad officials and a resolution providing of the streets on which the company now has its tracks and freight houses in exchange for a quit claim deed to the city of the park. Vote on the proposition was red until the next meeting.

AT THE THEATERS

"Checkers" is coming to town. It will play an engagement of one night at the La Crosse theatre. This play which recently finished its fourteenth New York engagement has made a record or big business during its two years' life in the eastern metropolitan cities. It has received practically the unanimous commendations of the press and the immense audiences which have attended every performance are pretty satisfying proof that it has found equal favor with the public. "Checkers" is a tale of love and luck, dramatized from Henry M. Blossom, Jr.'s book of the same name. The clever young actor, Hans Robert, who has been secured by the fortunate management plays the title role this season to the manifest delight of the press and public and the rest of the cast is the original company, nearly 150 strong and will be seen at the La Crosse theatre. Chief among the support are Katherine Mulkins, Lydia Dickson, Myra McReynolds, Jane Taylor, Ella Sothorn, Charles Willard, Dave Braham, Jr., Wallace Worsley, W. H. Clarke and Claude Cooper. The sensational and much talked of race track scene, representing the trotting ring of the Washington Park club in Chicago on Derby day, will be produced on the stage of the La Crosse theatre with all the completeness which characterized it during its New York run and which prompted the late Hon. W. C. Whitney to say: "Checkers is the finest racing play I have ever seen."

A MODERN JUDAS

Editor Tribune:
Will you kindly give space to a little plain talk. I have signed this "Advertiser" but enclose my name which I ask you to keep in confidence unless some good reason for divulging it arises.

What does the public think of a man who joins the Businessmen's association, an organization the purpose of which is to boost La Crosse industries, accepts a place on the directorate and within forty-eight hours employs methods which he vainly hopes will precipitate a conflict detrimental to the business public, for no other purpose than to get a little free advertising. Could the little fellow accomplish his purpose he would be doing a material injury to the entire merchant public. He does not contend there is any justification for his act. He seems to have no appreciation of the fact that to bring an inferior product manufactured in another place to this city and to put it up at a cut price to the detriment of home industry and with no advantage to himself is incompatible with his position as a director of a boosting society. He does not care to accept the truth that one can't boost with a hammer.

I respectfully suggest that this man have the farmers to get into line for La Crosse, as an organization organized for the purpose of boosting La Crosse with an officer playing the part of a "Judas"—rotten on the inside—can't expect to influence other merchants who are helping to build skyscrapers in other cities and enrich the treasury of the mail order houses. I respectfully suggest that this man have the fairness at least to get into line for La Crosse or at once relieve the Businessmen's association of its embarrassment by authorizing it to accept his resignation and declare a vacancy in the board of directors.

Respectfully,
ADVERTISER.

Echo of Some Boodlery

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 10. — Even with all the cases against those accused in the notorious water deal scandal wiped off the slate, the ghost of that affair seems unable to rest in peace. "Billy" Leonard, a former ward politician under the regime which brought about the scandal, was quite a figure in the early stages of the exposure. He turned over to the prosecutor $2,250 which he said had been given him by some person unknown to him to deliver to Garman, the New York promoter, whose squeal aided in the revelations.

This money is still in the hands of Prosecutor Ward, and Billy wants it. He says he has as much right to it as the prosecutor, and if the rightful owner wants to claim it he will turn it over to him. Leonard is going to take the matter into court, unless he is placated otherwise.

HER PHYSICIANS DESPAIRED. ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

Pe-ru-na, Used as a Last Resort, Cured Her of a Severe Attack of Catarrh of the Lungs.

MRS. IDA CALDWELL.

The Sensational Cure of Mrs. Caldwell is the Talk of Her Acquaintances.

Mrs. Ida Caldwell, 506 Pearl street, Sioux City, Ia., Vice-President Order of Washington, writes:

"I suffered with catarrh of the respiratory organs off and on for the last three years until I thought it was chronic. My chest and lungs were irritated and I had to use the greatest care not to expose myself to chilly air or dampness as it increased my troubles. 'My physician advised me to try a change of climate, but I was unable to leave my family. Reading of the wonderful cures performed by Peruna, I bought a bottle.

"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I found it the one medicine among them all which cured me. I was relieved within three days and after two months and a half the irritation was gone, my lungs perfectly healed and my health restored."—Ida Caldwell.

Thousands of women owe their lives to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands owe their health to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands are praising Peruna in every state of the Union.

We have many thousands of letters from grateful women, with permission to use them in public print, which can never be used for want of space.

Catarrh would not be such a curse in this country if the people thoroughly understood its nature. It must be treated at once to prevent it from making inroads upon vital organs.

If you suffer from catarrh, buy Peruna to-day, for a day gained on the enemy, catarrh, means a day nearer recovery.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the one given here. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

WHO WROTE IT?

The following little poem was unearthed from an old scrap book where it must have lain at least twenty-five years. The name of the poem also of the author seems to have been a matter of much speculation. De massa ob de sheepfol', Dat guard de sheepfol' bin, Look out in the gloomerin' meadows, Whar de long night rain begin— So he call'd de hirelin' shepa'd, Is my sheep, is dey all come in?

O, den says de hirelin' shepa'd, Dey's some dey's black and thin, And some dey's po' ol' wedda's, But de res' dey's all brung in, But de res' dey's all brung in,

Den massa ob de sheepfol', Dat guard de sheepfol' bin, Goes down in de gloomerin' meadows, Whar de long night rain begin— So he le' down de ha's ob de sheepfol', Callin' sof', Come in, Come in, Callin' sof', Come in, Come in!

Den up t'ro' de bloomerin' meadows, T'ro' de col' night rain and win', And up t'ro' de gloomerin' rain-paf, Whar de sleet fa' ple'cin' thin, De po' los' sheep ob de sheepfol' Dey all comes gadderin' in! De po' los' sheep ob de sheepfol' Dey all comes gaderin' in.

Without regard to the dialect, this is one of the most beautiful poems in the English language. It has been attributed to Mr. Joel Chandler Harris of Atlanta, the author of "Uncle Remus."

THE LA CROSSE TRIBUNE

Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday, at 121 Main St., La Crosse, Wis.

A NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE

By The Tribune Publishing Company

W. V. KIDDER ..... Managing Editor

Daily by Carrier ..... $5.00 per year

Daily by Mail ..... $4.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter June 22, 1904, at the Post Office at La Crosse, Wis., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Special Representatives: Payne & Young, Chicago, 948 Marquette Bldg.; New York City, 105 Potter Bldg.

TO ADVERTISERS.

After May 1, 1906, the display ADVERTISING RATES of The Tribune will be 1 1/2 cents per column-inch. This represents an advance of 2 1/2 cents per column-inch. Contracts will be accepted up to that date at the old rate, but they will not be solicited.

The reason! There is NO MONEY in advertising at 10 cents per column-inch. A steady increase in the cost of production has been maintained, with which advertising rates have not kept pace. Added to the increased price paid for labor, warranted by a parallel increase in the cost of living, all "fair" newspapers and job printers on Jan. 1, 1906 inaugurated the 8-hour day, instead of the 9-hour day, the result being an increase of over 11 per cent in the cost of production. This renders it impossible to make fair earnings at the old rate.

Advertisers in The Tribune, however, lose nothing, because the circulation of this paper has increased more than 1,200 in the past six months, and is steadily growing. In substantiation of this statement we renew our offer to enter into any fair arrangement for establishing the truth about La Crosse circulation, under the auspices of The Merchants' Association, and WE AGREE TO PAY THE ENTIRE COST OF THIS INVESTIGATION provided it does not show that we have the largest circulation (country and city) of any La Crosse daily newspaper.

TRIBUNE PUBLISHING COMPANY.

HEAT AND ICE AND ICEMEN.

We presume most of the ice men are so hot at Langdon & Boyd, they'll melt what ice they have on hand.

And meanwhile the people are wearing the smile that won't come off and are growing fat and happy on "L & B" meat.

In the summer they will keep cool on "L & B" ice.

Meanwhile they are finding a lesson in grit—the kind that wins—in the fight of this firm against the extortions of an insolent, though rather subdued would-be trust.

"Ha Ha," laughed the minions of the ice trust a month ago, "we've got you. We got the ice, now dig up your good simoleons to us, and pay all you've got for ice; and if you haven't got enough borrow some to pay our price, or go without ice."

But the ice trust must have been reading some of Rev. Hick's weather forecasts, for there came unto the people a streak of cold weather; and there came unto Andy Boyd a warm spot just below the collar; and there came unto him a hunch to put up ice, and even as he worked he decided to put up ice for the people; and the people rejoiced and cheered Andy Boyd, and smote the cowering ice trust with their jeers. Thusly, verily, doth the ice trust with its would-be insolent trust magnates, get laughed at by the lowly common people.

Then there came unto the ice trust a revelation, and its minions attached the ice of Andy Boyd with copious legal documents. But still Providence decreed that "it shall be to laugh" at the ice trust, and there came unto the community more cold weather, and unto Andy Boyd more warmth under the collar.

So be it that daily the harvest of independent ice goes on, and the people may snap their fingers in the face of the trust, and may continue in the summer to grow fat on "L & B" meats, kept in the finest condition by "L & B" ice, sold at "L & B" popular and reasonable prices.

A NEWSPAPER'S INFLUENCE.

Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage once said the press was the greatest power on earth for good or evil.

We concur. We also believe the Tribune is the greatest power in Western Wisconsin for the good of La Crosse and its people.

Some months ago this paper begun a campaign against mail order houses, and in the interests of our home industries.

Its effects are already felt strongly in every factory in La Crosse. And its effects are also felt in the mail order houses, for when people were brought face to face with the truth of the matter they readily appreciated their error.

We were safe in assuming the Tribune's campaign against the mail order grafts has cost the mail order houses $100,000 of La Crosse county money in five months.

It has stirred up the right sort of spirit in La Crosse, and is stirring it up every day.

Help those who help you, Mr. Buyer and Mrs. Buyer. Don't enrich Montgomery Ward. He don't care a rap for you, or for La Crosse.

La Crosse merchants and manufacturers do. They are building their homes here, they are employing La Crosse people and are selling honest goods at honest prices.

It now seems pretty certain the Elks are to have one of the swell-est Elks' club in the northwest. It is too bad it cannot be completed for the big Elks' state convention to be held here in June.

The wages of extortion is competition, eh! Paw?

It should be noticed to the credit of Senator Spooner that his attitude on the statehood bill, was the position finally taken by congress.

It may even come to pass that ice water will be almost as priceless as holy water—but, still, we forgot Langdon & Boyd have busted the trust.

When the doctor rises to take notice he is there with the figures. And we're of the opinion he had a drayman outside the city hall with a truck load more.

Most people have only one objection to the new Business Men's Association, and that's its name. There are now two Businessmen's Associations here. The old name "Board of Trade" with its dignity and meaning will no doubt be adopted at the first meeting of the new association.

HIGH CHAIR PHILOSOPHY

Mail your baby stories to Mrs. A. M. Brayton, 1122 Main street, or communicate by new phone, 814-C.

Margaret, one of our suburban children, was practicing some of the grimaces and antics common to children, when her Auntie laughed at her and said "Oh Margaret, now you look just like a monkey." Margaret, bent on at least supplying the missing link, replied, "Oh no I don't, I look just like my mamma."

Little Miss Ila, of upper Main street, not long ago was sitting at the table looking wistfully for a second helping of croquettes but she did not quite know how to express her wish. Finally she stammered: "Please mamma, may I have some more of those Cro-Cro-Crocheted cookies?"

Mamma, who was busily engaged, noticed a certain glance in the eyes of brown eyed Dick as he passed her, that to her meant "On mischief bent." Baby Dick had been cautioned not to touch the shears so mamma repeated the warning, "Don't touch the shears Dick." "But I wil-l." "Oh Dick—DON'T you touch those shears." With an upward glance of mischief he again declared "I wil-l." (In an aside as he toddled off) "but I won't."

Little three year old Mary was enticed out of doors by the spring like sunshine to play. She had not considered the cold wind that she soon encountered, and returned for her "mitties"—for she said "The bows cold my hands."

Bannerman's Troubles are Coming Fast

London, March 10.—A band of thirty zealous women suffragists attempted to storm Premier Campbell-Bannerman's official residence in Downing street. They used the knocker vigorously and attempted to force an entrance when the door was opened. The women clung tenaciously to the railings when the police tried to disperse them, and only succumbed after a determined resistance to the superior strength of a large force of police.

Three hingleaders were taken to the police station struggling and screaming and followed by twenty-seven of their companions shouting "Down with 'C-B.'" and other war cries. "C-B.", otherwise Premier Campbell-Bannerman, was presiding at a cabinet council at the time the women called, and he refused to see them.

JUST LIFE

Well, we've at last found the name they'll answer to.

And furthermore, we have deemed it wise to take out $7,500 insurance ourselves when the Tribune didn't die in "three months."

As to Andy. There is a young man whose name's Boyd.

He's got the new ice trust annoyed. He's bound to cut ice. If he has to cut twice. And the trust'll find grit unalloyed.

Farlan is back. Now for the laugh that won't be hushed.

Our Special Features.

Great story of Why is It when It Is It, or is the Mississippi a river or a stream; also why is the lumber business when the ice trust is?—fully explained in our Sunday supplement.

He's quit smoking. He's laid away his pipe. A man's a fool to discard his chief stock in trade.

Expert Answers.

Deer edeter: I am a pore man with a famle. I have to use ice in the summer because my wife is sikley. Now I se the icemen want to charg me almos as much as I hav to pay for rent for my ice. This is not fare to the pore peopl. What can I do about it?

WORKINGMAN.

Get on your knees and pray that Vice President Fairbanks will circulate about the main weather bureau office long enough to insure cold weather for another week. If your prayer is answered you can sit on ice all summer for what one cake would cost, if "L & B." energy hadn't "busted" the ice trust.

Investment Opportunity.

Don't put your money in lead mines; pass up the wild cat investments; don't put in any more simoleons with Klondike Lena and in the southwestern bad lands; there's no money in western oil, northern iron or eastern coal. If you want to get rich surely and quickly induce B. E. Edward to bite you off some stock in his street car co. You may have to assume an obligation to swear persistently that it's a losing proposition, but that won't hurt you, so long as the lucre rolls in; $140,000 receipts last year on a dinky investment made 10 years ago is going some.

"Taint true. Naw! 'Taint true, cause we missed it."

It occurred to some people yesterday that there was a massacre in the Philippines, instead of a battle.

And "Doc" has a trump card up his sleeve at that.

Sometimes a tough problem is referred to as a poser. At other times a grandstand player is called a poser.

It is rumored Weather Oberseer Oberholzer is on the ice trust's black list. Well, we must confess it would be no more than right for Andy to send up a "roaster" of pork.

Thomas Lawson predicts H. H. Rogers and John D. Rockefeller will be wearing stripes in one year, if alive. If Jerome has the backbone to prosecute these brigands of finance, it will make him president of the United States; and he has the evidence to do it with.

The more we think of the supreme gall of those insurance thieves in New York and their insolent attempt to curb remedial legislation, the madder we get. If we continue to think of it, there'll be some bad words flying about Monday.

Spooner and La Follette don't make such a bad team, after all.

It'll be time to revive that "How'd you like to be the iceman," in an ironical way, this summer.

—W. V. K.

DR. ANDERSON

Sixteenth street extension was completed and in operation within two months after the passage of the ordinance and that while it is now almost six years the company has never asked for a franchise to build those extensions until now, when they attach a lot of other conditional extensions as favors to be granted them. PRESUMABLY AS A REWARD FOR FAILURE TO KEEP THEIR AGREEMENT FOR OVER THREE YEARS. And even this work, according to its ordinance, it DID NOT PROPOSE TO COMPLETE UNTIL THREE YEARS FROM NEXT JUNE. After the meeting Dr. Anderson said probably we ought to be thankful that they have not obtained, during this restful period, a franchise for a "La Crosse & Ebner Coulee" street railway, so that another nickel could be obtained east of Market street, within the city limits, as is the case north of Gorhes street.

Some Documentary Evidence.

The doctor then offered the following extracts from the report of the committee of the common council, as to extensions of the La Crosse City Railway Co., accepted and filed May 2d, 1895:

"We suggest that the City Railway company be required by this council to file a plan of such extensions as they contemplate within the next five years, that buyers of property may know before purchasing where tracks may be laid, as many people would avoid streets along the line of the railway, while others would prefer such property."

Still another objection to the indiscriminate laying down of rails is that the railway company in the past has asked for the use of certain streets, which they have used for a while and then discontinued using, to the detriment of property holders along such lines.

Instances are city, viz.:

"Tracks along State street from West avenue to Eighteenth streets, used only occasionally; tracks in neighborhood of Gund's brewery, which are not being used." The report proceeds: "And it is understood by your committee that the Market street extension will not be used should the proposed ordinance be adopted. In the opinion of your committee this is not right, as property owners should not be subjected to the annoyance of having streets torn up in front of their property, only to be abandoned when the railway company finds them unprofitable."

"On the contrary your committee insists that the suburbs should be accommodated regardless of the pecuniary benefits to the railway company, and the lines paying profits should be considered as offsets to ones less profitable to them. We believe that all future lines should be considered and used as feeders to the main lines already in operation."

That West Avenue Affair.

At the time this report was accepted, Dr. Anderson recalled, an ordinance was given a first and second reading granting the company the right to extend their tracks from Twelfth and Main streets south on Twelfth to Green Bay street, and that on May 23rd a petition from residents of West avenue and vicinity was presented asking that such tracks be extended on that street to Redfield street.

"Why the company did not accept this offer I do not know," said the speaker, "but this I believe: If they had their tracks on West avenue now, you could not get them to remove them for a very large sum of money. Neither do I believe the residents of that avenue would consent to have the tracks laid there now for all the money the company could raise."

Dr. Anderson then cited that on Sept. 26th, the same year, all the various ordinances proposed were laid on the table, and he quoted the following extract from the report of the committee at that time:

"Your committee is of the opinion that in future the City Railway company should be forced to extend its tracks only along such streets as are already occupied by the company, and along other straight lines as may be proposed by the council."

The speaker here said that he could not imagine why the extension to the Catholic cemetery, for which there has been a loud demand, has been ignored by the officials of the company all these years. He said it could hardly be explained in the score of a deficit in receipts since the understanding was had that those extensions should be made, for prior to 1900 the railway was operating ten and one half miles of road, and the receipts then did not indicate much embarrassment financially.

A Fortune Each Year.

Here follows the most sensational feature of Dr. Anderson's remarkable address, wherein he showed the astounding condition that the extension of 1900, of only 1 1/2 miles of new track, netted the company an increase in earnings of $33,000 per year. To each of the tables $3,000 is added to cover the odd hundreds not quoted. The tables represent five years up to and including 1900, and five years up to and including 1905 respectively. They are as follows:

Gros Receipts for Five Years.
1896 .....	$54,000.00
1897 .....	52,000.00
1898 .....	53,000.00
1899 .....	57,000.00
1900 .....	59,000.00
Odd 100s .....	3,000.00
$278,000.00
An average of $55,000.00 per year, operating 10 1/2 miles of road.
The Gros Receipts for Five Years Including 1905 (with additional 1 1/2 miles of track).
1901 .....	$68,000.00
1902 .....	77,000.00
1903 .....	93,000.00
1904 .....	97,000.00
1905 .....	104,000.00
Odd 100s .....	3,000.00
$442,000.00
An average of $88,500 a year on 12 miles of road.

"This shows a total increase for the five years of over $163,000.00, or an average increase in receipts for each year of over $32,000.00, and yet the market street extension remains un-built," concluded the speaker.

What the Company Spends.

Regarding the operating expenses of the extensions the doctor pointed out that when the company was asked to run cars regularly on the Lake Park line the president of the railway company "with his customary prudence" wanted a guarantee of $1.65 per day.

A Confession.

This confession that $1.65 per day would be a sufficient guarantee to protect against loss in 20-minute cars, awoke a feeling expressed freely after the meeting that the company was indeed selfish in having quibbled over the "expense" that it might have to meet in running cars to the Catholic cemetery. Supposing it actually cost $3 per day, or $1,095.00 per year above revenues (it would probably pay dividends), how small the concern taking $104,000 annually from the city on a public grant, and slyly at this small concession to the 8,000 Catholics and other thousands directly interested!

An Odd Fact.

There was significance in the remark of Dr. Anderson that he had found the majority of the directors broad gaged men, and he could not

Our prices for the same goods are as low and in many instances lower than mail order houses quote. People will not trade at home if they have to pay more for the same goods. The only way we can meet mail order prices is by doing a wholesale as well as a retail jewelry business and dealing with the manufacturers direct. Bring your catalog along and compare prices. ## H. C. EVENSON'S EDITORIAL

Did you ever stop to think that, with the exception of the heart, the eye is the hardest worked part of the body? As long as you are awake and your eyes are open they are working in your service. Do your muscles ever tire? Who does not remember aching limbs due to muscular effort? But that is gross when compared with the tiny muscles of the eyes. Do the muscles of our eyes tire that way? Why not? We may not know it as such but eyestrain, which is really eye-muscle strain, is characterized by headache, pain in and about the eyes, blurring, any of all of which symptoms call for immediate attention.

The eye is too delicately constructed, too hard worked to be trifled with. It is a long suffering organ, but its hours of revolt is sure to come if it is abused.

Most people know too little about their eyes to give them intelligent care, and others are heedless, till it is too late.

An ounce of prevention is always worth more than a pound of cure. My perfect fitting glasses never fail to relieve. I'll soon publish a picture of a girl in this city whose eyes I have straightened with glasses. It proves all I have claimed.
